THE QUEST

During the Battle of the Gods in the Time of the Sword, the legendary knight Drak and the Goddess Luxina sealed the evil god Deoric deep under the six continents of Mistral. Since that dark time Mistral has known peace and prosperity, and the threat of Deoric has been almost forgotten.

Now the Garuda Empire has invaded the peaceful lands of Mistral. The armies of the Garuda Empire, led by Sornbul and his six Dark Generals, have conquered Mistral's six continents. Sornbul plans to resurrect Deoric and plunge the lands of Mistral into utter darkness. And now, with Mistral defeated, nothing stands in his way.

The people of Mistral fought valiantly, but they were outmatched by the terrible demon armies of the Garuda Empire. In this hour of despair, Mistral has only one hope: Duran, last descendant of the great hero-knight Drak. Wearing the mystical armor of Drak, Duran must single-handedly battle the hordes of the Garuda Empire in order to stop the resurrection of Deoric. Will Duran succeed in his quest?

The answer lies in your hands, as you assume the role of Duran, choose your armor and your items and go forth into battle. You'll have to fight through the different demon armies on each continent and face the terrible might of the six generals. And if you can make your way past them, you'll still have to stop Sornbul and the evil god Deoric. Can you face this awesome challenge?

D-Pad: Move between continents

A Button, C Button, Start Button: Confirm selection and move to Armor Selection Screen

DEZANT

The desert continent, where armies of demon knights guard the scorching sands. Giant sand worms and sandsprites infest the surface. Watch out for the immense dragon crawler! If you pass all of those threats, you'll descend beneath the desert to fight the demons in their stronghold. Beware the dune wizards, the glowing spikes of the dreaded scorpion lord, the power scorpions, and the desert slayer with his force bolts. Watch for falling rocks and the spike balls from the ceilings! The caverns are shaken by the forces released in your epic battle, and you must watch for falling rocks. At the end, the demon general Zargoth transforms into his true being when you confront him.

AUZAL

The watery continent, where the demon knights swarm and dragon boats carry gargoye troopers. Beware the gigantic riverdragons that breathe fire. Pass through the waterfall and enter into the watery caverns below Auзал. The mystic armor enables you to breathe here, but the current carries you swiftly through the underwater passage, so beware the sharp rocks! Watch out for the squid slayers, the armored worms and the vicious crab demon. The demon general

Laugrob awaits you in his chamber, where he tries to destroy you with his water-serpent form.

LAMARADA

The volcano continent, where lava flows like water and fires engulf the land. Beware of fireballs, the two-headed firebreathing phoenix, and the giant fire beetles.

Guard against the firebirds, the giant flamefalcons, and especially the flying fire spider. The demon knights are joined here by axemen and flame wizards. Descend into the volcano to find the dark general, but avoid the lava flows, the moving rock columns, the crushing ceilings and the spike balls. The demon general Deragor awaits in hideous magical armor, and he can transform himself into invulnerable steel spheres to try and crush you.

BOSQUE

The jungle continent was once a peaceful land of forests, but has become a twisted land of terror due to the demon hordes. Watch out for the demon beetles, fireflowers, imps, fireball wizards, fire-breathing wyverns, and the giant pincer worm. Enter into the darkness of the stronghold, and beware of spinning death wheels, the chain crawler, and the gargoyle knights. If you can reach the end, you'll find the demon general Sormog. When he turns into his hideous form, beware of his magical blasts.

HELADO

The ice continent lies frozen in misery under the lash of the demonic armies. You'll battle frost lizards, the awful demon hawk with his spike swarms, and the gigantic demon worms. You'll also find demons and monsters from the other continents are here as well, in great numbers. Ice shards plunge from the ceiling as you enter the glacier that is the demon stronghold.

The demon general Zoltar assumes his hideous demon unicorn form when you approach. Watch out for his horn, which can attack in a variety of ways!

CIELOM

The cloud continent is the most unusual and dangerous of all the lands. The demon armies are here in force! The demon knights sometimes wield morningstars, or firestars that seek you out. Sky snakes, sky sharks with gargoyle troopers, giant armored demon warriors, and floating orbs make this place almost impassable. All of the threats you encountered on the other continents are here in some form, and you must take great care.

The mightiest of Sornbul's dread generals is here, the evil Molasar. Watch out for his shield!

THE DARK TOWER

The Dark Tower, the dread lair of Sornbul, cannot be attacked until the six dark generals have all been defeated and their continents freed from the scourge of the demon armies. You must find and defeat Sornbul before he can release Deorc from his ages-long imprisonment! The Dark Tower is guarded by the most powerful of all Sornbul's demon hordes, and it is strewn with mighty engines of destruction that can crush even Duran's mystic armor. So beware!

ARMOR SELECTION SCREEN

The mystical armor of Drak can take one of four elemental forms: Earth, Wind, Fire, or Water. Each of these elemental forms has different capabilities. Their mystic energy blasts form different patterns, which change as you acquire more magic gems and increase your power. Each armor has its advantages against different demon armies on each continent. You'll have to use your skill to decide which armor to use!

D-Pad: Select different armor type

A Button, C Button, Start Button: Confirm selection and move to Item Selection Screen

EARTH ARMOR

This armor shoots beams straight forward and drops energy bombs towards the ground. At full power energy bombs drop towards both ground and sky. It's best for enemies that attack along the ground or high in the air.

WIND ARMOR

This armor fires lightning straight ahead in intense bolts. At higher power levels, lightning blasts increase, and at full power are fired at an angle forward towards the sky and the ground.

FIRE ARMOR

This armor fires forward at angles and straight to start with, then with more power fires a stream of twisting fire forward. At full power, the armor blasts fire forward with two short range sweeps of fire in front, above and below.

WATER ARMOR

This armor fires blasts in a wide forward pattern which gets wider with more power. At full power the armor fires both forward and backward at the same time.

ITEM SELECTION SCREEN

Buy magical power gems, life orbs, magical shields, and bombs from the mystic supply center. Use the crystals that you have gathered in your unceasing combat with the forces of the Garuda Empire to acquire these items. If you don't have enough crystals to buy the item, a beep sounds to let you know.

STRATEGY

- As the old saying goes, wealth is power, and that's certainly true in this battle. Make sure you gather lots of crystals so that you can buy the items you need in the shop.
- Save your Elementals for when you really need them. They're the best way to nail big opponents you can't get any other way. One good use of an Elemental: destroy a screenful of enemies to gather a lot of crystals and Magic Gems.
- Keep moving! Staying in one spot is a sure way to fail in your quest.
- Learn to sort out the attacks from the crystals. Sometimes it's pretty tricky!
- Some attacks you can shoot down with your mystic blasts; others you can't.
- Be a smart shopper; use your crystals wisely to buy the items you need most. Sometimes, you might want to save some crystals for your next visit to the shop.
- Choose your armor carefully for each level; the different firing patterns come in handy against different generals.
- Red crystals are worth 25 crystals, blue crystals are worth 5 crystals.
- Look for the magic gems carried by enemies along the way; they're rare, but you can find them. They'll restore your life and your magic power when you get them!
